Stekin—The Northwest Boundary.

[From the Liverpool Albion August 18, 1862; reprinted by the London Free Press, anti-Russian Organ, May 6th, 1863.]

The leading journal of the 15th contains the following passage in a letter from San Francisco respecting the new gold district to the north of British Columbia:

"By last accounts two Russian steamers had been at the mouth of the Stickeen, which is in Russian Territory. This territory extends 'ten marine leagues from the ocean' inland or up river, to put it in plain language; but we have the right of free navigation on the river, a right which, however, may be called in question; for the terms of the treaty are not so clear but they can be distorted."

One would suppose from this passage that the terms of the Boundary Treaty between England and Russia were familiar to all the inhabitants not only of British Columbia but of California. When certain non-official persons in this country, who take rather different views of our home duties in respect to foreign affairs from those that have unhappily long been fashionable in Downing street, corresponded on the subject with the late Sir George Simpson, Governor of the Hudson Bay Company, they found that he did not know what the boundary was, and that he had taken his notions of it from the American cry, "54 degrees 40 minutes, or fight!" The writer just quoted, who knows so much about a Treaty that Sir George Simpson, seems never to have read, must be a remarkably well-informed person. The occasion for making mention of the Treaty is the discovery of gold in the Stickeen country to the north of British Columbia, which he correctly describes "of vast extent, and belongs to Great Britain, except a strip or belt on the Pacific, some three hundred miles long by thirty miles broad, ceded to Russia by treaty in 1825." The writer is perfectly right in saying that this coast was ceded to Russia. If it had really belonged to her, the uninhabited territory inland, instead of being ours, would have been hers, and she would not have ceded it to us. What was the consid ration for this cession is not stated by this well-informed intelligencer. It has never been stated by anybody else. No authoritative source has ever declared that it was a cession at all. There is no mention of cession in the Treaty:—what that declares is, that "the line of demarcation shall be drawn."

This information can hardly have been afforded without a reason. It is surely for some purpose that we are told that "two Russian steamers had been at the mouth of the Stickeen in Rustian territory." This description of the Stickeen country, this reference to the cession of 1825, to the Russian steamers in their own port, and to our right to navigate the river through Russian territory, all prepare for a difficulty in this navigation. The right will be called in question for "the terms of the treaty are not clear." Out of the 50,000 purchasers and 500,000 readers of the great British diurnal organ, it is pretty safe to assume that not more than one or two know where to find the Treaty, or will trouble themselves to inquire whether its terms are clear or the reverse. The statement is on record, and future use may be made of it against the English colonists, that the navigation of the Stickeen is not a British right, but a Russian question.

If the Treaty of 1825 had been made by Lord Palmerston, it would have been a matter of course that it would have contained terms "not so clear but that they can be distorted." But the Treaty of St. Petersburg was drawn up by Lord Dudley and negotiated by Lord Stratford de Redcliffe, who had already in 1814, when England and Russia were in alliance, refused a Russian order, and who some years afterwards, when gazetted Ambassador to that country, did not revisit it, because the Emperor Nicholas refused to receive him. The Treaty is to be found in Macgregor's Commercial Tariff, under the head Russia, Articles III. and IV. define the boundary. Article VI. confers on the English the perpetual free navigation of the rivers in the ceded territory in the following terms, which are so clear that they cannot be distorted, even by the ingenuity of a Russian diplomatist:—

"Art. VI. It is understood that the subjects of His Britannic Majesty, from whatever quarter they may arrive, whether from the ocean or from the interior of the Continent, shall for ever enjoy the right of navigating freely, and without any hindrance whatever, all of the rivers and streams which, in their course towards the Pacific Ocean, may cross the line of demarcation upon the line of coast described in Article III. of the present Convention."

The purpose of this mystification will appear in due time. If the belief should be circulated in the Colony that our rights to the free navigation of the rivers crossing the Russian boundary are doubtful, considerable mischief may arise. It is in the hope of dispelling this delusion in the Colony that we take the trouble of giving this exposition.

THE ATTENTION OF SHIPPERS and passengers is particularly directed to the superior facilities the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's Line affords for the speedy conveyance of Treasure, Goods and Passengers to and from England to British Columbia and Vancouver Island, in connection with the Pacific Mail Steamship Company's Vessels and the Panama Railroad.

The superiority of the accommodation and entertainment on board the Royal Mail Steamers, together with the time occupied on the passage between England and Aspinwall direct being so much shorter than by any other route, and the moderate rate of passage money, render this Company's steamers the CHEAPEST AND MOST EXPEDITIOUS MEANS OF TRANSIT, for passengers or for the forwarding of Goods and Treasure from Aspinwall to Europe.

PAYMENT OF FOREIGN CONTRACTS.

The people of these colonies notwithstanding their proximity to the territory of the neighboring Republic, have been little more than spectators of the monetary disturbance caused by making the Treasury notes of the Federal Government part and parcel of the currency of that country, and at the same time attaching to them by law a fictitious value. Legal tenders, or "green-backs," or whatever else they may be called, have given us little or no trouble, and have only led us to congratulate ourselves that we at least were free from so great a nuisance. The confusion, the rankling, the litigation, the uncertainty of which they have been productive among our neighbors, we have fortunately escaped. Up to this, American courts have been the principal vehicles by which disputes arising from them have been brought to a decision. Our courts have been suffered to deal with matters of hard cash. It seems, however, that we are to have a change. An action has been commenced in our Supreme Court by the second indorsee, residing here, of a promissory note made in Washington Territory, for the recovery of the amount on the face of it. The defendant, as one of the makers, has been arrested under a writ of capias. This arrest he has sought to set aside on the ground that he tendered to the plaintiff the amount of his debt previous to the arrest.

This tender, it is to be remarked, was made in Treasury notes reckoned at their nominal value by law fixed instead of allowing for their actual depreciation. The plaintiff seeks the full face of the notes, $1252, in our currency, the defendant offers as much as that amount of paper will bring in Washington Territory, some forty per cent. less. The judge, however, has not seen fit to entertain the objections to the arrest. The case will therefore in all likelihood go to trial. The plaintiff will claim from the defendant the equivalent of American gold currency, the defendant will endeavor to pay only the equivalent of American paper. Should the former be sustained, American creditors will be able to obtain greater favors from our courts than they can from their own. The code of honor by which merchants in California, Oregon and Washington Territory, feel themselves bound not to take advantage of the unfair privilege which their laws allow them, will here meet with an ally which can be depended upon. The injurious interference with the laws of currency which the Federal government have so unwisely been guilty of, will here find no power to aid in its enforcement. On the other hand, however, the fact of our court affording parties to contracts in the shape of promissory notes or bills of exchange made in the United States an opportunity of obtaining greater privileges than they could in their own courts, might tempt them to make these colonies the field of their litigation whenever there would be an opportunity of meeting the debtor here. This city in particular might thus be turned into a regular trap for the arrest of those who refused to pay their debts otherwise than in "green-back" currency. People might thus be deterred from visiting us at all for fear of encountering their creditor's agent in the person of a sheriff's bailiff.

Should our court, however, decide that contracts made in the United States may be satisfied here as nearly as possible in the same manner as where they were made; that for instance a debt contracted in San Francisco may be liquidated by the debtor here in the equivalent in our currency of either American specie or Treasury notes, then it is contended that our credit below may be impaired—that California merchants may be induced to become more stringent in their transactions with our men in business. This may be so. But since our courts must decide the question upon its own intrinsic merits and without regard as to whom it will affect in this or that particular locality, the honor of our business men need no more be effected by it than would that of San Francisco merchants be stained by an illiberal or unjust decision of one of their courts. Whatever our courts may decide, our merchants will act according to their own ideas of justice between man and man.

Whatever opinion one may have of the principles of natural justice governing the question, the law would seem to be in favor of carrying out the decisions of the United States courts. The general rule governing the case is that contracts are to be interpreted according to the law of the place where they are made. This is a principle almost universally recognized and enforced, unless manifestly contrary to common justice. Thus a promissory note made in Ireland for the payment of a certain number of pounds was sued and recovered in England. Instead of being payable in English it was held to be payable in Irish currency; this, though of the same denomination, was of two kinds, paper and specie—the former being of less value than the latter, which was equivalent to English money. In this case the suitor recovered the value of the smaller denomination. The principle of the case is that the parties to the contract contemplated the contingency of its being paid in Ireland and in the money of that country. This would seem analagous to the case at present before the court. There the note was made in the Territory of the United States, and primarily payable there. It was subject to American law. According to that law, it is contended that Treasury notes are, for the purpose of liquidating contracts, money, and as efficient for this object as gold or silver; that American law makes no distinction between them; that notwithstanding the difference in the actual value of the two species of currency, one may pay in either at his option: that although the debt follows the person of the debtor, the rights he had when the contract was made also attach to him: and that if a foreign court undertakes to enforce the contract at all, it must do so entirely, giving the debtor all the advantages he had in his own country. It is here of course assumed that the so-called law of legal tender is valid in the United States; that fact, however, is disputed. It has been decided, we are well aware, by some of the Federal Courts, that it is binding, but the Supreme Court has not yet decided as to whether Congress has power under the constitution to pass such a law. Certainly before the present war none would have advocated the affirmative. In the first article of the constitution it is laid down that Congress has the power "to coin money, regulate the value thereof, and of foreign coin." This is the only authority delegated to Congress over the money or currency of the country. They have no power to make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts. Any act, therefore, which exceeds their authority in this respect, is no doubt illegal. Whether it will ever be pronounced so, however, by the highest tribunal of the United States, is another question.

THE BEEF EMBARGO.

The rumor that an embargo had been imposed by the authorities of the United States to prevent the exportation of horses, mules, beef cattle, sheep, &c., is confirmed by an arrival yesterday from the Sound. A notice was served on the Captain of the Eliza Anderson on her arrival on the other side by the Customs' authorities of Port Angelos, that she would not be allowed to leave for a foreign port with any stock on board. Of this fact, information has been received from a reliable party. The embargo then exists, but why it is imposed, or for what object we are not prepared to say. It is alleged that a law was passed in 1862 empowering the President of the United States to prohibit the exportation of stock from Washington Territory and Oregon to foreign ports. Whether such a law exists or not, we have been unable to discover; although we have high authority for stating that an examination of the late acts of Congress has not brought any such statute to light. Whether any such extraordinary powers were conferred on the President last year or not, the precedent set up by President Madison in 1812, by laying an embargo for ninety days on all vessels at the recommendation of Congress, shows the power existed half a century ago. The embargo at that time was the immediate precursor of a declaration of war by Congress against England. We cannot well entertain the idea that the prohibition against the exportation of stock is the precursor of a declaration of war. The late telegrams of English news indicated a continuance of peace. There is this, however, about the matter; the prohibition can only affect our two provinces on this coast. No other country is affected, as they are not consumers or customers of the neighboring Territory and States for stock. Taking the war view of the matter, the embargo is hurled directly at us, and may be followed by a decree to prohibit the exportation of flour or other produce. But as a measure of retaliation, it is a suicidal one on the part of the American authorities; for they will lose their cash customers, whilst it, if a durable embargo, will give an impetus to our agricultural industry, and induce us to carry our gold elsewhere to purchase what they could supply. It is said—on doubtful authority—that the object of stopping the exportation of stock is to prevent a scarcity in the supply for the army of the United States. We can scarcely believe this story. Driving stock 2,000 miles, from Oregon to Ohio, will scarcely pay. The only pacific interpretation that can be placed on the decree of non-exportation of stock is, that the people of Washington Territory and Oregon have not paid their war tax of 30 cents per head on cattle, with 10 cents on sheep; and that the revenue authorities of Washington Territory have resorted to the expedient of stopping exportation to make stock-owners pay up the taxes. But taking this view of the matter it looks like a very mischevious expedient to resort to. One would naturally imagine that the collectors of war taxes would take such remedies as the revenue law provides in States where exportation of stock is next to impossible. An unusual course like that adopted by the customs' authorities would answer no end if the people were indisposed to pay their war tax. Nothing but the ordinary process of attachment would provide revenue, where the stock owners did not sell for exportation. It is asserted that the Executive of the United States made an order to stop the exportation of stock last year, and that Collector Smith, on his own authority, on the eve of his departure, has revived an order that was never intended to be enforced. If such is the case it is a most mischievous act, and entirely indefensible; and if done as alleged, in retaliation for the treatment he has received in the Territory, it is still totally inexcusable. Such an act, for such a cause, would be lawlessness personified. If war with England is not at the bottom of this affair; the stock-owners of Washington Territory and Oregon will soon find means to secure a repeal of this obnoxious "beef embargo." They will be the greatest sufferers, as we are their only customers who give them hard cash instead of greenbacks for their beef. When the Anderson returns we shall hear fuller particulars. As it is, we have no fears of being starved out. British Columbia has enough beef cattle to last till next spring, and we have enough to last till the end of the year, without interfering with work or breeding stock. In the meantime, if the embargo continues, we can supply ourselves elsewhere, and take steps to become independent of our impulsive neighbors.

In the BLACKSMITH SHOP there is a powerful steam blast which enables the Proprietor to do Heavy Blacksmithing.

The attention of persons, and particularly miners, about purchasing Steam Engines, is directed to the Improved Portable Engines, constructed at the Albion Iron Works. These Engines can be successfully worked for Threshing, Hoisting, Pumping, Pile driving, or for any other use where small power is required. They are simple in construction, have an Economical Boiler, and are considered the best portable engines in use. They would be in valuable auxilaries to the Miners for Hoisting and Pumping.

All orders for high and low pressure Steam Engines, Grist and Quartz Mills, Pumping Machinery, Blacksmithing, Brass and Iron Castings and everything done at a Machine Shop and Foundry, can be filled at the Albion Iron Works.

Particular attention paid to Steamboat Work and general repairs.

Terms: Cash and Low Prices.

INQUESTS AT THE BOOMERANG.

An Inquest was held at the Boomerang Inn yesterday at two o'clock p. m., before Dr. Dickson, Coroner, and a Jury, of which Edward Coker was Foreman, upon view of the body of the man (name unknown) whose dead body was discovered on the previous day in a shanty on Store street.

The Jury, at the direction of the Coroner, proceeded to view the body, and upon their return the Coroner inquired if there was any person present who was acquainted with the deceased.

Frederick Eberstein—then stepped forward, and on being sworn, stated :—

I am a sailor; I have seen the body of deceased, and recognized it. I didn't know his name; he came from Comax in a canoe. I conversed with him last at 10 or 11 o'clock the day before yesterday. We spoke about splitting rails. He then appeared to be quite well. I have known him since last Monday. I understood he was an Englishman. He complained to me about $30 he had lost. On Tuesday he had got a contract for supplying rails, and was trying to get a hand to help him.

Witness then stated that about two p. m., he saw the deceased leave his shanty in company with another man. At five o'clock witness saw the door standing ajar, and looked in when he saw the man on the floor, and called a person who was passing to come and look, as he thought the man was dead; they went in, and, upon discovering this to be a fact, conveyed the information to the police. The shanty was in charge of a baker on Johnson street.

Dr. Davie, M. R. C. S., deposed—I have made a post mortem examination of the body of deceased by order of the Coroner. I found an entire cavity in both sides of the chest. On investigating the source of the hemorrage, I found the pulmonary artery ruptured. This was a sufficient explanation of the death of the individual; but I made a further examination to ascertain the condition of the organs. Found the heart in a flabby condition; the liver indicating effects of alcoholic stimulants; the lining of the stomach defining inflammation from the action and presence of alcohol. The substance of the lungs was in an enfeebled state. Over excitement would at any time have produced the consequences. The only external mark worthy of notice was the drawn appearance of the left side of the face. The pupils of the eye were distended. The cause of death in my opinion was the rupture of the pulmonary artery.

The Coroner said it was clear from what cause death had arisen, and thought it unnecessary to produce further evidence.

The foreman said he concurred.

A verdict was then returned of "death from rupture of the pulmomary artery."

Adjourned Inquest

The adjourned enquiry into the circumstances attending the death of Geo. Andre, whose body was discovered floating in the stream a few days ago, was resumed at the Boomerang Inn, last evening, at seven o'clock.

In the absence of Mr. Wilcox, Mr. J. W. Williams was elected foreman.

The Coroner remarked that since the adjournment he had caused enquiries to be made, and the police had succeeded in procuring testimony which might tend to throw some light upon the case.

The first witness called was a man named Ebenezer Berry, who gave a clear and connected story of a most flagrant case of garroting which had been perpetrated upon his person by two men while he was conversing with the deceased upon James' Bay Bridge one evening after 11 o'clock. He described the appearance of four men—two of whom, a large and a small man, were in advance of the other two; the large man seized him suddenly by the arms, and the smaller one by the legs, and threw him over. He scrambled out through the mud, and while so doing, he heard a scuffle on the bridge, and a body fell heavily into the water. The deceased man had over $100 on his person.

Thus far the evidence apparently disclosed an atrocious and ruffianly outrage

Sergeant Blake was next examined, and from his statements the jurors began to attach some discredit to the testimony of Berry.

A man named Wm. Pottinger was next called and this witness caused the entire case to break down. He proved that Berry had scarcely been sober since 24th May. "Its a rale fact," said the witness with a strong country dialect, "that he's aboot three parts oot a' his coorse in his senses. He's not in his roight mind that's a fact." Witness here described how Berry frequently imagined that all kinds of music was playing, or that bullocks were running their horns into him, and so forth, when "he sloosed him wi a booket of water to bring him roight."

It was evident that Ebenezer had been troubled with D. T.

The Coroner, therefore, with the concurrence of the jury, terminated the enquiry, and a verdict was returned of murder against some person or persons unknown.

DEPARTURE OF THE "TOPAZE."—This morning will witness the departure from our shores of a noble ship and a gallant crew. There will be nothing (except it be the distant report of a farewell salute) to proclaim to the good citizens of Victoria the extent of their loss. The brave ship will leave her moorings at Esquimalt, and glide noiselessly into the waters of the Pacific, but among the hundreds who tread her decks will appear many a well-known form, whose place will soon be missed, and whose absence will long be regretted by the entire community. The Topaze was commissioned in June 1859, and attached to the channel squadron until October following, when she was ordered on a few day's notice to this Island. She called on the voyage out at Teneriffe and Rio, passed through the Straits of Magellan to Valparaiso, Thence she proceeded to Vancouver Island, via the Sandwich Islands, arriving here on the 20th March, 1860. After a lapse of thirteen months she left for Valparaiso, and returned in the autumn of 1861. In May, 1862 she again went to South America, and on her return in December called at Callao and Panama. Shortly after this Capt Spencer hoisted his broad pendant as Commodore of the second class, and has remained here continuously ever since. To Commodore the Hon. J. W. S. Spencer and the officers and men of the Topaze have the people of this city, of all classes, been indebted for acts of courtesy, kindness and attention, which will render their names as familiar as household words; and now that they are on the eve of taking their leave of us, we feel satisfied that one and all will unite in wishing them, with heart and soul, "God speed" and "bon voyage."

STABBING AFFRAY OVER THE SOUND.—On Monday night, two men had a quarrel at Port Townsend arising out of some old grudge; blows ensued, when one of them drew a knife and cut his opponent very seriously, nearly stabbing him in the heart. They were both apprehended; the wounded man was bound over to appear before the District Court, in the sum of $500, and the other was committed to jail to take his trial.

IN THE STRAITS.—A full rigged ship was seen yesterday bound up the Straits. She was supposed to be the Sardinian. Another square-rigged ship was lying off Port Townsend.

TRIAL TRIP.—The steamer Enterprise made a trial trip yesterday forenoon outside the harbor. Everything worked satisfactorily.

Sittings in Chambers.

FRIDAY, June 26th, 1863.

HOLLINGSWORTH V. GRENNAN & CRANNEY.

This was a motion made by Mr. McCreight (instructed by Mr. Pearkes) on behalf of Lawrence Grennan, who had been arrested under a writ of capias, upon affidavits to discharge the bail bond, upon the grounds: First—That a legal tender of the debt had been made previous to arrest in U. S. currency. Second—That the promissory notes upon which the the suit was brought were endorsed after maturity, and merely for the purpose of collection; and also upon other grounds.

Mr. Ring, instructed by Mr. Drake, opposed.

Mr. McCreight in support of the motion said, that a writ of summons had issued under the Bill of Exchange Act for $1252 92 upon two notes, one drawn at three months, and the other at six—the last of which arrived at maturity on the 24th April last, made by Grennan and Cranney in favor of Seligmann & Co., by them endorsed to Rothchild, without recourse, all parties being domiciled in the neighborhood of Utsalady, with the exception of Seligmann & Co., who were domiciled in California, and all being citizens of the United States, and residents therein.

The affidavits he would read would show the facts that the notes were made and the payment was intended to be made at Utsalady, W. T.

Mr. Grennan on his way from San Francisco to Utsalady, was obliged to pass through Victoria, (which he was sorry to say was now used by lawyers as a sort of Salmon Weir to entrap strangers and visitors) and was capias'd here although it was well known that he was on his return home to the place where the whole transaction took place, and where Rothschild might have conveniently sued and enforced payment.

The question was, why was he arrested here? The affidavits say the notes were to be paid in U. S. currency; Quo animo were the notes endorsed after maturity?

Mr. Ring here objected, that the quo animo was a matter for the jury and not for present discussion.

His Honor observed that he was willing to hear all Mr. McCreight had to say, but he must confine himself to the grounds of his application.

Mr. McCreight continued. The endorsement was made to enforce payment here in gold coin, so as to have the benefit of about 40 per cent. (33⅓). He was not going to discuss whether treasury notes were a legal tender here, but his argument was, that the parties endorsing notes from the American side, could only transfer the same rights to Hollingsworth, which they themselves enjoyed where they were resident.

His Honor again observed that this was an application to set aside a bail bond.

Mr. McCreight—Said if he succeeded in proving that all that was owing, or could be demanded, had been previously tendered, the application would hold He then read the affidavit of Lawrence Grennan the defendant, and George Pearkes, which set out the particulars of the making of the notes, the subsequent endorsement to Hollingsworth, (clerk to Mr. Wm. Culverwell) after maturity, and the tender in Treasury notes previous to arrest. Also the affidavit of Allan Francis, U. S. Consul, setting forth that such tenders would be accepted as legal in the place where the contract was made, and argued that the transfer of the cause of action to Victoria could not enlarge the plaintiff's claim. If the debt had been tendered there in legal currency there would have been no question, and so if the equivalent were tendered here there could be no question either. The plaintiff's claim could not be enlarged from United States notes to United States gold by bringing the suit here, nor could it be enlarged by endorsing it after maturity in order to bring the suit here.

Mr. McCreight quoted a case in point from Tudor's Mercantile Cases, "where a bill drawn in Ireland was sued upon in England at a time when the currency of the two countries was different, it was held that the sum was payable in Irish currency;" and applied the case by substituting America for Ireland.

His Honor interposed by asking whether United States notes did not represent gold?

Mr. McCreight—Yes; but there is the difference in value. A legal tender of the whole debt in notes was made.

His Honor—but I am not going to entertain the question of a legal tender.

Mr. McC.—No, your honor, I do not ask you to do so. My argument is that the right of action has ceased through a virtual payment made by us. We have done all we could be required to do.

Mr. Ring—That is a case for special pleading at the trial of the case. You cannot set that out by affidavit.

Mr. McC.—My learned friends, argument amounts to this: That if I was sued for £50, and tendered that amount, I have no right to move to set aside a capias upon affidavit, where the fact is undisputed and there is nothing left to go to a jury. The question is, was there a sufficient tender made. You may lead a horse to the water, but you cannot make him drink. The court would send the case to a jury, were the facts disputed. The facts are not disputed, and it is a dry question of law for your honor to decide whether it was sufficient or not.

Mr McCreight then quoted Smith's leadcases, and Story on the conflict of laws in support of his views. He also referred to the Act of Congress to show that Treasury notes were a legal tender in all cases, public and private, in the States, except payment of duties and interest upon U. S. claims. It was easy, he said, in making the notes to say they were payable in American gold coin, in the absence of that, they must be supposed to have made the contract in accordance with the laws of the United States.

The Judge here intimated that the defendant must show that there was no cause of debt, and that he could not entertain the present motion.

Mr. McCreight then said if His Honor had made up his mind, he would not proceed any further, and withdrew.

His Honor—observed that the preliminary remark made by the Counsel about entrapping people in Victoria, was very pertinent. He would see that an alteration was made in the law in that respect, giving parties the privilege of two or three weeks residence before a capias could issue.

The motion was then dismissed with costs.

FROM THE SOUND.—The sloops Mary Ellen, Lovejoy, and Mystery, Slater, arrived yesterday from Port Townsend.

Ocean Travel--The P. S. S. Co.s' Steamers

The New York journals state that the Sacramento, one of the mammoth fleet of steamers now being built by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, has been successfully launched, and that the golden City, another of these immense vessels, is receiving the last of her machinery at the Novelty Works. After these come the Washoe and Vancouver, which, with the Constitution, Golden Age, etc., will form the noblest line of ocean steamers in the world—a line well worthy of California and its great future, and one that must add largely to the already well filled coffers of the Company.

To give some idea of the capacity of these new vessels one needs pay a visit to the Constitution, already in our waters, and walk through its maze of iron and wood work, from where the bow cleaves the waves to the "old flag" which floats at the stern. If there is anything that will more forcibly than another impress upon those who "go down to the sea in ships," the necessity for a staunch craft on the ocean wave, it is a survey of the Constitution, in comparison to which ordinary steamers seem as river boats. Yesterday we paid a brief visit to this vessel, which bears the broad pennant of Commodore Watkins, and who as commander, like his ship, holds an enviable prominence in our merchant marine. We first ascended to the hurricane deck of the Constitution, a broad walk of some three hundred and fifty feet, with seats for passengers—both cabin and steerage—and lined on each side with large metallic life-boats, twelve in number, sufficient for even a California bound steamer. What a positive assurance of safety there was in that little fleet, should the huge leviathan ever fail in its work! Each boat was ready, with water, ropes, sails, and provisions, to be lowered at a moment's warning.—Weekly Alta.

Something About American Relations with England.

There is a class of men in the country who seem bent upon it. Anti-English articles, speeches and despatches are published, and not a word against the French Emperor, who has from the first been at work trying to coax England to intervention. Why is it that there is so much talk in favor of a war with England and so little against that ambitious knave, Louis Napoleon? At such a time Kinglake's "Louis Napoleon" in Littell's Living Age is most wholesome reading. Two parties are forming here—a war with England party and anti-English war party. If I am not very much mistaken the two parties have their representatives in the Cabinet. Mr. Seward is cautious and is anti-war, while Mr. Stanton is bold, (some people would use the word reckless) and would instantly back up the speech of Mr. Butler in New York. No one can deny that England is acting ungenerously towards us. or at least that a class of English citizens are so acting; but the common people are with us stronger and stronger every day. To cause the war feeling is to unite the nation against us.

Mr. Sumner counsels a very cautious policy, and I think there is no doubt that Mr. Seward agrees with him. With the President Mr. Sumner has a great influence, and he will use it to prevent a foolish foreign war. It is said that Mr. Whiting has been consulted, and that he favors giving England fair notice that if the vessels now building for the rebels are permitted to put to sea, for the purpose of preying upon our commerce, we shall interpret it as a warlike act, and shall proceed to make reprisals at once. This may be mere rumor, but if I do not greatly mistake, it is exactly the position of Mr. Whiting upon the subject. What we need above everything else is victories. Give us Charleston, Vicksburg and Richmond, and England will stop making war steamers "for the Emperor of China."

A friend who is usually accurate in his information, assures me that I am mistaken in supposing to Mr. Seward is opposed to a bold policy with England in this matter. It is the President, he assures me, who is inclined to timidity, and Mr. Seward who is quite willing to send threatening despatches. He might add—and back down from them when there is real danger of war.

Commercial Stagnation.

There are some who entertain the opinion that the restoration of peace will be attended with great commercial derangements. The U. S. Economist expresses the following views:

We frequently hear the theory advanced that in case of a sudden peace the South, which is supposed to be bare of goods, would absorb all the stock now in the market at near present rates. There cannot be a doubt that they are almost destitute of goods, but it must be borne in mind that when peace is declared, the ports will be open for supplies to flow in from Europe as well as from the North, and a vigorous competition would then spring up, which would necessarily depress prices. The North and West would purchase little or nothing until prices came down to near half the present rates, and the supply in the Northern markets and in Europe would prove too large to be absorbed by the South, scarce as goods must be in that section. In our judgment the cessation of the war will be followed by a rapid diminution of the volume of currency; a tight money market; a decline in prices of all commodities to a specie standard; a general stagnation in every department of trade, and the bankruptcy of all who are largely in debt.

Thus it would seem, that the great multitude who compose the debtor class are interested in the continuance of the war; at least a portion of the partizan press endeavors to convince them that such is the case. The advantages of the war and the astonishing prosperity of the loyal States under it are dwelt upon in glowing terms, and the long and constant repetition of these views, while the gloomy side of the picture is scarcely alluded to, is operating powerfully to establish confidence and quiet the apprehensions of the masses of the people—reconciling them both to the continuance of the war and the vast increase of the public debt: the grand principle of attachment to the Union apparently overshadowing and sanctifying all other considerations.—S. F. Prices Current.

"The character I would give to this dead rebel is, that he was a wretched fanatic in religion and politics; that he had a perverted intellect, without a true moral perception of the infamous system he had drawn his sword to uphold; that to his persistence in revolt, and his reckless courage in maintaining it, we owe the loss of thousands of better, truer and nobler men than himself. I cannot endure that such psuedo-heroes shall have any place in our sympathies; if we give it we shall be lost in the regions of sickly romance, and may some day or other become the eulogists of Arnold, who was quite as sincere in his resentments and in his villainy as Stonewall Jackson. This praying rebel of the same school with Jefferson Davis, who has the audacity to appeal to Heaven for protection every time he has committed an outrage could not, it seems, secure its protection. He died pierced by many balls, some of them from the hands of his own men; the instruments of his treason being thus justly the avengers of his crimes.

PUEBLA.—Puebla de los Angeles (the city of Angels) which was for so many weeks the object of French attack, is the capital of a Mexican State of the same name. It lies 76 miles east-southeast from the city of Mexico, and had at the last census 75,000 inhabitants. It is situated on a declivity; is regularly built and well paved, and contains a great number of religious edifices, many of which have great store of gold and silver. The cathedral, which has been the aim of the French, forms one side of the great public square, and is rich in paintings and statuary. In Puebla were manufactured sword blades, glass, earthenware, soap and coarse woollen cloth. It is the second city in importance in the Mexican Confederation.—Weekly Bulletin 20th June.

HOLLOWAYS OINTMENT AND PILLS.—The treatment pursued by Professor Holloway for the cure of wounds and ulcers is the most simple and certain in its effects, it has been tried by hundreds of thousands and never been known to fail; by the administration of an internal remedy (the Pills,) he drives disease out, and by the administration of an external remedy (the Ointment), he heals wounds, ulcers, and the worst of external disorders. By this celebrated treatment, also, bad legs and ulcers are cured, even when they have been upwards of twenty years standing

HEALTH FOR A SHILLING.

Holloway's Pills.

Headaches, Bile, Loss of Appetite, and Lowness of Spirits.

These Pills require no interruption of business or pleasure; they act mildly on the bowels, strengthen the stomach, and promote a healthy action of the liver, whereby they purify the blood, cleanse the skin, brace the nerves, and invigorate the while system. They effect a truly wonderful change in debilitated constitutions, as they create a healthy appetite correct indigestion, remove bile, giddiness, head aches, and palpitation of the heart.

Weakness and Debility.

of debility, languor, and nervousness generally excess of any kind, whether mental or physical, the effect of these Pills is in the highest degree bracing, renovating and restorative. They drive from the system the morbid cause of disease; re-establish the digestion, regulate all the secretions, brace the nervous system, raise the patient's spirits, and bring back the frame to its pristine health and vigor They increase the appetite, while they secure perfect digestion to all ordinary food, and release the invalid from restraint in diet.

A Word to Females.

There are two periods, especially in Woman's life, which require for safe passage, judgment and attention. Irregularity is apt at those critical times to take place, and to lay the foundation of future disease. These Pills, safe in action, and effective in result, should be taken at certain periods, and the issue will be marvellous both to the young and the middle aged. They prevent nervousness, hysterics, dropsy, and a host of similar serious disorders, by expelling all impurities from the system, therefore none should ver be without them.

Coughs, Colds, and Asthmas.

No medicine will cure colds so quickly as these Pills, when of long duration or settled on the chest or even though it has assumed the first stage of asthma, they may be relied on as a certain and never failing cure, particularly if the Ointment be well rubbed into the chest and throat night and morning. this catch the eye of any asthmatical person so bad as even not able to lie down in bed, let him well use these two preparations for only a week, and the result will be marvellous.

Blood to the Head--Diseases of the Heart.

More persons die suddenly from diseases of the heart than the unlearned suppose: in such complaints, the bowels should always be kept well open, as also where there is a tendency of blood to the head. These celebrated Pills purify the blood in an extraordinary manner, and should be taken in copious doses when such symptoms occur, taking care not to overload the stomach; by this means al danger is quickly averted.

Children's Complaints.

It is not generally known, but such is the fact, that children require medicine oftener than their parents Three-fourths of the children die before they attain the age of eight years. Let mothers, then, be wise and give to their children small doses of these invaluable Pills once or twice every week, in such quantity as may act gently upon the system twice in the twenty-four hours. For infants, a Pill may be crushed and given as a powder in a little water The gross humors that are constantly floating about in the blood of children, the forerunners of so many complaints, will thus be expelled, and the lives of thousands saved and preserved to their parents.

Holloway's Pills are the best remedy known in the world for the following diseases:

Ague	Dropsy	Inflammation	Sore Throat
Asthma	Dysentery	Jaundice	Stone and Gravel
Billious Complaints	Erysipelas	Liver Complaints	Secondary Symptoms

THE SILKWORM IN FRANCE.—M. Guerin Meneville, at a late sitting of the Societe d'Acclimatation, gave an account of the results obtained in various parts of France from the endeavors to overcome the baneful effects of the disease of the silkworm. It appears from this account that all the attempts to find a specific against this disease have signally failed, but that most practical men are now of opinion that the disorder is owing to the blight which has attacked the mulberry tree in various districts. It is now certain that breeds brought from places where the disease of the silkworm does not exist yield a good crop the first year in the infested districts, but cannot be propogated, their eggs being tainted like those of the diseased worms. Hence breeders are obliged every year to import eggs from foreign countries, when they can find healthy ones, which becomes daily more difficult. Nevertheless, from the experiment, made with great care, it would seem that eggs obtained from diseased silkworms will produce a breed exempt from the disease in a country where the latter has not yet broken out. In order the better to compare the results obtained in different departments, M. Guerin Meneville has established a "central laboratory of comparative sericiculture" at the School of Ailanthicultrre, which he has founded at the Emperor's farm near Vincennes, where all the experiments made by the various agricultural societies of France are repeated, compared and centralised. The acclimatization of the silkworm which feeds on the ailanthus, or Japan varnish-tree, is progressing favorably both in France and other parts of Europe. The palma Christi silkworm has succeeded admirably at La Plate. That which feeds on the oak has failed in France for the present; but it is likely to succeed this year in Holland, eggs having been brought over from Japan by M. Pompe Van Meert der Woort. This silkworm is called "ya-mami," by the Japanese; it lives in a wild state in an island called Fatsy-sio, which is a place of exile. The silk it yields is made into very strong stuff, which never changes its color, but which, on the other hand, takes no dye. The silk is a monopoly of the Japanese Government, and is not allowed to be an article of trade.

PADDY'S PASSAGE SAID TO BE PAID BY THE FEDERAL GOFERNMENT.—The New York correspondent of the London Morning Herald, says: "The immense arrivals of Irish astonish those who are not in the secret. Their passages are paid by the U. S. Government, and will be charged to enlistment expenses. The sum appropriated for this purpose is $3,000,000, and it is estimated that it will bring over to America about 120,000 Irish persons; of this number it may be safely estimated one-third will enlist; that will cost only $50 each for 60,000 and in any other shape it costs the United States $100 soldier.

Shippers

Desirous of getting Freight through to Cariboo this season are advised to Shun the Douglas-Lillooet Route!!

Five Days only are Required

Shippers are Assured

That if Freight is carried from Douglas to Lillooet for Two Cents per lb.,

CARRIERS ARE PREPARED TO

☞ Remember the Cranford affair, and steer clear of extortion and delays.

Travel the Yale and Lytton Wagon Road to the Cariboo Mines.

☞ New and Commodious Hotels have been erected at convenient distances along the entire length of the Route, where First Class Accommodations for both man and beast are bestowed at moderate rates.

☞ FOR CHEAPNESS, DESPATCH, EASE and SECURITY choose the Yale and Lytton Route in preference to all others in British Columbia.

Simply this, a want information on the subject. The civilisation of the present day renders some aid to nature in the preservation and restoration of health indispensably necessary; and the only question is, whence is the required help to be obtained? Undoubtedly, by using Kaye's Worsdell's Vegetable Restorative Pills.

For the last thirty years the truth has been gaining ground that to purify the blood is the simplest and most natural way of restoring and maintaining health; and the great and distinguishing feature of these celebrated pills is, that they speedily eradicate all disease from the body, by purifying the blood; thus good health is at once secured, and all may ensure a sound constitution and complete freedom from pain and disease.

The pamphlet enclosed with each box of the pills gives most interesting particulars of many hundreds of cases of cure, together with instructions for the use of the medicine.

MEDICAL.

THE WORLD'S FRIEND!

Holloway's Ointment.

A Cure for Piles and Fistulas.

Inflammation of sensitive parts, piles, fistulas, and such like painful diseases may be presently relieved and ultimately cured, by the proper and diligent use of this cooling and healing Ointment, whose action should, in such cases, be assisted by judicious doses of Pills: ere many days have elapsed the anxious patient will experience a wonderful degree of ease from this treatment. They are equally suitable to both sexes, and all ages.

Coughs, Colds, and Asthma.

These complaints of the chest come on with alarming frequency. The Ointment should assiduously be rubbed at least twice a day on the chest and between the shoulders, when the violence of all symptoms will gradually give way, the breathing become longer, and the oppression less. No medicines are more efficient in chest complaints, none can be used with equal safety and certainty. Both Pills and Ointment are accompanied by very clear and simple directions for using them.

A Man who refused to have his Leg off.

"From the Kilrush Advertiser, June 2nd, 1860.

BENJAMIN COX, Esquire, Magistrate, said in the Board Room at Kilrush, that he knew a man who had been in the Infirmary and was actually turned out as incurable, on his way home to Kilrush, he purchased at Ennis, Holloway's Pills and Ointment, for, as he said, it could not be worse with him. This man, said Mr. Cox, became by their use as sound and as healthy as any man in the room. These celebrated Pills and Ointment will cure any wound, sore, or ulcer, however long standing, properly used according to the printed directions.

Gout and Rheumatism.

The essence of these diseases lie in the blood, which has, floating through each vessel, the pain-giving poison, which irritates and inflames every tissue it comes in contact with, and produces the hot, swollen, elastic enlargement about the joints so characteristic of gouty diseases. The philosophy of cure consists in overcoming this depravity in the blood, which is rapidly purified by the use of the Pills. The Ointment, when rubbed upon the skin, penetrates the system through the pores, acts in unison with Pills, and soon effects a cure.

Dropsy, Swollen Legs or Ankles.

The various kinds of dropsies, whether windy or watery, arise from some obstruction to the free circulation though the blood vessels or lymphatics, or depend on the inflamed state of some secreting surface. Holloway's remedies, of which the efficacy cannot be exaggerated, act directly upon the blood, the absorbents and secretions, with a power that no dropsy, however inveterate, can long resist. They regulate the proper flow of blood to every organ, and purify it likewise,—they filter out everything that is morbid or injurious,—they thoroughly regenerate every function, yet potent as they are for good, they are powerless for evil. They do not contain mercury or any noxious substances. They act safely and certainly.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, and Old Ulcers.

This invaluable Ointment was never known to fail in the cure of any wound, any sore, or any ulcer,—as can be proved by innumerable testimonials from persons who had been discharged from Hospitals as incurable, and yet by perseverance they have been made as sound as they were the day they were born, by this incomparable Ointment. For pimples, blotches, scald heads, and scorbutic humours, it is equally efficacious.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:

Bad Legs	Chiego-foot	Fistulas	Sore-throats
Bad Breasts	Chilblains	Gout	Skin-diseases
Burns	Chapped Hands	Glandular	Scurvy
Bunions	Corns (Soft)	Swellings	Sore-heads
Bite of Mosquitoes and Sand-Flies	Cancers	Lumbago	Tumours
Coco-bay	Contracted and Stiff Joints	Piles	Ulcers
Scalds	Elephantiasis	Rheumatism	Wounds
			Yaws
			Sore Nipple

☞ There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder are affixed to each Pot. n13

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNES

Chlorodyne.

CHOLERA, DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA, CRAMP, AGUE, FEVER, RHEUMATISM, CONSUMPTION, ASTHMA, COUGH, &c.

ALL PAIN, VOMITING AND DISTRESS ceases in a few minutes after taking a dose of that wonderful SEDATIVE ANODYNE and ANTISPASMODIC remedy discovered by Dr J Collis Browne M.R.C.S.L. (ex-Army Med. Staff.) the recipe of which was confided solely to J. T. Davenport, 33 Great Russell street, Bloomsbury-square, London (Pharmaceutical Chemist). The medical testimony of civil, hospital, military and naval practitioners pronounces it INVALUABLE. It relieves pain of any kind, soothes the restlessness of fever, and imparts the most refreshing sleep, without producing or causing any of the unpleasant effects of opium.

As a proof of its efficacy, a few extracts from numerous Testimonials by Physicians and Surgeons are given:

From W. Vesalius Pettigrew, M D., Hon. F.R.C.S., England, formerly Lecturer upon Anatomy and Physiology at St. George's School of Medicine: "I have used it in Consumption, Asthma, Diarrhœa and other diseases, and am most perfectly satisfied with the results."

Dr. Gibbon, Army Medical Staff, Calcutta: "Two doses completely cured me of Diarrhœa."

From C. V Ridout, Esq., Surgeon, Egham: "As an astringent in severe Diarrhœa and an antispasmodic in Colic and Cramps in the Abdomen, the relief is instantaneous."

Extracts from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.

1st Stage of Premonitory—In this stage the remedy acts as a charm one dose generally sufficient.

2nd Stage, or that of Vomiting and Purging—In this stage the remedy possesses great power, more than any other we are acquainted with, two or three doses being sufficient.

3rd Stage, or Collapse—In all cases restoring the pulse. So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of using it in all cases.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay: "Chlorodyne is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma and Dysentery." To it I fairly owe my restoration to health after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when all other medicines had failed."

CAUTION.—In consequence of the extraordinary efficacy of this remedy, several unprincipled parties have been induced to vend imitations. Never be tempted to buy Chlorodyne, except in sealed bottles, having the Government stamp, with the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" engraved thereon. A sheet full of medical testimonials accompanies each bottle. Sole manufacturer, J. T. DAVENPORT 33 Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Sold in bottles, 2s 9d and 4s 6d. Ju24wly
